

SALARY GUIDE

Birmingham, Alabama

With unemployment at a historic low, recruiting and hiring skilled talent has become significantly more challenging. It's a job seeker's market and employers need to up their game and their offer if they want to remain competitive. While there are many factors influencing workers' decisions, pay is proving to be a lead determinant in their employment choices.

When your salary ranges are right, you will gain the attention and interest of top candidates. But, if they fall short of what workers can earn elsewhere, you will limit your hiring options and set yourself up for higher turnover. In a tight job market, employers must make sure their compensation scales are competitive with what the market pays for talent with similar skills and experience.

At AccuStaff, we are passionate about helping companies build a high-performing workforce. Our salary guide will give you the insight you need to stay positioned to win, manage and retain the best talent.

The data in this guide reflects the most current salary information released at the time of publication by the Economic Research Institute (ERI), a leading provider of workforce data. ERI's expertise is built upon data collected over 25 years from more than 565,000 organizations.

Our 2019 Salary Guide provides competitive salary ranges for a broad spectrum of jobs throughout your geographic territory. Salaries are broken out by position and range (10th, 25th, median, 75th and 90th percentile) based on years of experience in a particular job.

Each position features the average years of experience a person has working in this position for the salary range provided. For higher-level roles, salary is linked to employer revenue data rather than years of experience, as revenue is more predictive of salary than career tenure for certain leadership positions.

AccuStaff is committed to helping organizations build a strong talent strategy. This salary guide will keep you informed about pay and well-positioned to win in the workforce!
